Overview

Kiran Mistry-Patel is a dedicated, client-centered advocate committed to helping individuals and families navigate complex legal challenges with confidence and clarity. She serves clients who are often facing deeply personal, high-stakes situations—whether they are protecting their families, safeguarding their assets, resolving disputes, or planning for the future.

Kiran works with individuals and families who value practical guidance, strategic thinking, and compassionate counsel. Many of her clients come to her during transitional moments—marriage, parenthood, business growth, conflict, or major life changes—when the legal decisions they make today will have long-term consequences. She understands that behind every legal matter is a real person with goals, responsibilities, and concerns that extend far beyond the paperwork.

In addition to serving individuals and families, Kiran has significant experience representing nursing facilities with filing creditor administrations to have qualified professionals appointed as fiduciaries to work collaboratively to navigate the MassHealth application process and advocate before the MassHealth Board of Hearings to secure approval of long-term care benefits and retroactive payment for the facilities. Her work helps facilities obtain the reimbursement they are entitled to while ensuring residents receive uninterrupted care.

Her approach is rooted in listening first. By taking the time to understand each client’s unique circumstances, Kiran develops tailored legal strategies that align with their personal and financial objectives. She is known for breaking down complex legal concepts into clear, actionable steps so clients can make informed decisions without feeling overwhelmed.

For individuals and families seeking clear guidance, strategic advocacy, and a lawyer who genuinely cares about their outcomes, Attorney Kiran Mistry-Patel is a strong and dependable partner.
